

Blockchain can transform the insurance industry “right from the core,” says Mark Wales of Galileo Platforms

Some great exposure for Galileo Platforms, the Hong Kong-based blockchain business in which Greenlight Re Innovations recently made a strategic investment. Mark Wales, Co-Founder of Galileo, was interviewed at the Singapore Fintech Festival in November 2018. He said the vast majority of insurers in Asia were using coding that can be traced back from the 1970’s and 1980’s, but that blockchain was an opportunity to change insurance “right from the core”.
